Cost savings

Maritime transport of full trucks and trailers allows to achieve substantial savings compared to transports by road, thanks also to the lower expenses for fuel and lower wear and tear of the vehicles.

Speed and punctuality

By embarking onboard the ships, trucks avoid the traffic and the long motorway queues, reducing transit time. Units can also travel during national holidays, in summer time, and during road restrictions for work in progress and road maintenance.

Driver safety

Drivers can rest during the voyage and arrive at destination with the digital tacograph at "zero", in full accordance with driving rules. Moreover, travelling on the ships, truck drivers avoid to be victims of thefts or aggressions during their drive-breaks.

Cargo safety

During navigation trucks and cargo are kept under video-surveillance 24 hours a day. Port terminals are managed by Finnlines personnel and fully equipped with entrance / exit video - control systems.
